

NASHVILLE BRIDE — Story Document / Paper Edit

Episode: "The Yes Dress" (Sarah & Garrison)

1. LOGLINE

A Nashville barista and single mom keeps postponing the wedding she and the man who became a father to her kids simply can't afford — until Dom and his three single coworkers surprise her with her dream gown, and in handing Sarah her forever, each of them edges closer to believing in their own.

2. STORY BREAKDOWN

A-STORY — Dom's gift (the spine).

Dom set out to remove the one thing standing between Sarah and her wedding: the dress. He hand-picks three gowns, previews them on a model so the team can strategize, then surprises Sarah with a VIP fitting that ends in a "yes dress" and a party. The engine of the episode is anticipation → reveal → celebration, and Dom's private stakes — a man who still believes in marriage after his own divorce — give the gift its weight.

B-STORY — The team's own hearts (personal investment).

All three women are single, pouring themselves into someone else's love story while quietly working on their own. Seeded at the rooftop in Savannah's emotional story (2f) and echoed in Danielle's self-love / "shadow work" journey, it pays off at the party: helping Sarah say yes makes each of them want — and believe they deserve — their own person. "We'll find our people one day."

C-STORY — Sarah & Garrison (the stakes).

They met at Sarah's brother's wedding, both in the wedding party. She's a single mom working a coffee counter; he's the steady guy who became a role model to her kids and writes her songs. They've set a date, changed it, and postponed it — financial stress, life stress — always putting the wedding last. The dress is the first domino. Take it down and "it's happening now."

3. CHARACTER ARCS (start → want → obstacle → end)

- Dom — Start: generous ringleader, all confidence and plan. Wants: to give Sarah a moment that proves marriage is still worth believing in. Obstacle: his own history — divorce, lean years, the thing he "had to give up" — makes this personal in a way he doesn't expect. End: undone by Sarah's tears, "balled like a baby," names the team his family.
- Sarah (bride) — Start: guarded, out of her element, "I don't know anything" about the day. Wants: to feel like a bride instead of a to-do list. Obstacle: a chaotic, money-tight life that's made the wedding feel impossible. End: "I feel like a wife." Glowing, crying, sure — the dress is better than what she pictured as a little girl.
- Garrison (partner) — Start: offscreen, the quiet "why aren't you married yet?" question. Wants: to finally give Sarah the wedding she deserves. Obstacle: finances, timing, pride. End (offscreen but felt): set up to "ball his eyes out" at the aisle; Dom frames him as the good man who earned this.

- Danielle — Start: warm, detail-loving real-estate pro and dog mom (Grace & Frankie). Wants: genuine connection after a rough romantic history. Obstacle: old patterns she's actively unlearning ("shadow work," a marriage that was really a visa, a petty ex). End: "I'm proud of myself" — pours her light into Sarah, lands on gratitude.
- Savannah — Start: the newcomer (PA → Maryland → Nashville), bubbly, still finding her footing. Wants: belonging and her own love story. Obstacle: she's the most freshly single, still bruised. End (B-story payoff): seeing Sarah and Garrison reframes what she's looking for — "someone that truly sees me in the little moments."
- Muff — Start: the skeptic-with-taste, "corset girly," here for work, guarding her excitement. Wants: to nail the dress details and not get swept up. Obstacle: she gets swept up anyway. End: "I'm digging Sarah for sure" — predicts the yes dress, melts at the reveal, "bridal superheroes."

4. ACT-BY-ACT BEAT SHEET

Footage refs use scene/sub-scene codes + timecodes. INT = confessional/interview callouts.

Side-talk policy (whole episode): keep side talk that builds the three recurring threads — line dancing (rooftop "I want to line dance" → the party lesson pays it off), Nashville (the city, Broadway, real estate/development, "everybody's moving here"), and personal (single-life/dating, the dogs, self-love — feeds the B-story). Trim generic filler.

ACT 2 — ROOFTOP AT THE VINYL LOUNGE / THE PREVIEW — (~8:00)

Rule for this act: each dress beat is about the dress — that's the meat. Lead into each with only a short beat of side talk (a line or two), then get to the gown. Bank the rest of the small talk for 2-7's dedicated side-talk beat. Order: Dom + Alex → champagne → Dress 1 → Dress 2 → Dress 3 → side talk → Savannah.

Beat	Action	Footage ref	INT bites	Function
2-1	Dom arrives, introduces the model Alex — "this is Alex... we got Sarah, she's our bride."	2/S2 01:09:30–01:09:53	—	Kick the preview off
2-2	Champagne — toast/sip, skyline, "let's do it." Brief and glam. Lands right after Alex.	2a/S2 01:09:53–01:11:03 (B-roll; grab a "cheers to Sarah" on relisten)	—	Glam reset, energy up
2-3	Dress 1 (01:12:17–01:13:49) — beach / room-to-dance gown. Segment: Muff "excited for this opportunity to help people" → girls discuss the beading → Dom "you guys think she'll like it?" → "that's dress number 1." Beach/dance voiced later in comparison ("ease on the beach," 01:17:39). △ under music in ASR — relisten for exact lines.	2b/S2 01:12:17–01:13:49	—	First gown
2-4	(short lead-in) → Dress 2 — "it's very graphic," the top/shape ("the shape is perfect"), ballroom-vs-beach, "it's a contender." Dom: "I wanted to give her options."	2c/S2 01:16:46–01:18:33	—	Options = stakes; build the choice
2-5	(short lead-in) → Dress 3 — corset, sleeves, waistline; "I love a corset"; scores 8 / 8.5 / "10 — I want it." Dom: "those baby tears the first time... you know she found her dress."	2d/S2 01:22:00–01:24:21; Dom philosophy 01:22:18	INT-Dom: the "yes" moment is what he lives for.	Strongest gown; pre-sell the reveal

2-6	Side talk — Dom's pick (torn 1 vs 2, champagne for the beach, "strong variety") + the recurring threads: line dancing ("our night might end in line dancing"), Nashville (Broadway, the city), personal (all-single/dating, dogs, the "Dom's always late" gag 01:07:06).	2e/S2 01:24:45–01:25:33; pre-arrival 01:01:35–01:09:08	—	Strategy + texture
2-7	VALLEY — Savannah's emotional story (B-story plant). Fun drops out for a quiet, real beat.	2f/S2 ~01:36:00–01:38:16 (confirm narrator — see Notes)	INT-Savannah: why this work hits home.	Plant the payoff; peaks & valleys
ACT-OUT	"Thank you, Alex." Dom: now we actually meet her.	2/S2 01:25:55–01:26:14	—	Hook: who is Sarah, really?

ACT 3 — MEETING SARAH / THE STAKES — (~8:00)

Beat	Action	Footage ref	INT bites	Function

Beat	Action	Footage ref	INT bites	Function

4-5	Strategy beat: "we can always add sleeves"; "there's a wedding dress and a party dress." "Now it's happening."	4c side-talk 02:01:04– 02:02:13	INT: changing lives "one bride at a time."	Hold tension before the win
4-6	★ DRESS 3 — THE YES DRESS. Deep-V corset, lace sleeves to the knuckles, train. Tears. "I feel like a wife." Veil — chills. "Is this the yes dress?" "Yes."	4d/S4 02:02:40– 02:05:17; veil 02:06–02:10; button 02:04:56 / 02:10:40	—	THE PEAK

5. COLD OPEN (60–90s) — build from these lines (emotion only, no gown)

- Dom, low and sincere: "There's a lot of brides out there that just can't afford to get married... the dress is the first piece to the puzzle." (S1 01:01:10)
- Hard cut to intimacy + stakes — Garrison "writes songs for you?" / songs with the kids (S4 01:59:38). A couple who keep putting the wedding last.
- Escalate on reaction shots only: Sarah welling, "I've been trying not to cry" (S4 02:03:47); a teammate wiping her eyes; Dom watching. Keep the camera off the dress.
- Button on Dom ITW: "When Sarah started crying... it kind of brought my whole vision together" (02:15:11) → "This is bigger than the whole thing." (04:22:30)
- Smash to TITLES before any wide of the gown.

6. RUNTIME BUDGET (target ~45:00)

Segment	Runtime
Cold Open	1:30
Act 1 — Pickleball / The Brief	6:30
Act 2 — Rooftop Preview (+ Savannah plant)	8:00
Act 3 — Meeting Sarah / The Stakes	8:00
Act 4 — The Yes Dress (peak + Sarah interviews)	10:00
Act 5 — Party / The Speech	11:00
Total	45:00

Peak placement: the yes dress lands at ~24:00 — just past two-thirds toward the credits — with the party as the warm runway.

7. NOTES (pacing flags, order options, pickups, build-from lines)

Pacing / structure

- Peaks & valleys are built in: pickleball-fun → Dom's heart; rooftop-glam → Savannah's story; coffee-shop levity → the postponement confession; two dresses → the yes dress; line dancing → the speech. Keep beat 4-3's banter between the gowns so two tender beats don't sit back-to-back.
- Protect the reveal. Dress 3 appears on the model (Act 2) and on Sarah (Act 4). In Act 2, favor partial frames + the scoring banter over a clean full-length, or the Act-4 reveal deflates.

Order options

- Breakdown order (preview → meet Sarah) builds anticipation best — recommended. Alt: open Act 2 with a short meet-Sarah tease cross-cut into the rooftop if the rooftop plays "abstract."
- Savannah's story (2f) can float into Act 5's interview block if Act 2 runs long — but plant at least a line on the rooftop.

Missing / recommended pickups

- Champagne toast is B-roll. No clean "cheers to Sarah" line was captured. Relisten 01:09:53–01:11:03; if one exists, it's the button on the champagne beat.
- PRIORITY: Sarah's solo confessional. The rules want the bride's interview rawest, right after the reveal (4e), but the transcript has only in-scene reactions. Grab a bride ITW: how the dress compared to her childhood picture, what not stressing about the wedding means, what Garrison will feel at the aisle.
- Garrison reaction pickup. He's pure setup and never seen reacting — a short ITW or aisle-day tag closes his arc.
- Speaker-ID verification. ASR blurs Danielle / Savannah / Muff. Confirm who delivers the home-care/"deathbed" reflection (~01:36–01:38), the self-love lines (~02:22), and the visa-marriage backstory (~03:48 / 04:03). Breakdown assigns 2f to Savannah; the transcript's richest single-woman material may be Danielle's — assign the B-story to whoever is on screen and keep it consistent. (See companion Nashville_Bride_SpeakerID_Worksheet.)

Lines to build cold opens / act-outs from

- Cold open: "The dress is the first piece to the puzzle." / "This is bigger than the whole thing."
- Act 1 out: "Y'all sold?" "Sold."
- Act 2 out (theme): "You see those baby tears for the first time — you know she found her dress."
- Act 3 out: "Get your bags packed — you're coming with us. Girls day."
- Act 4 out: "Is this the yes dress?" "Yes."
- Act 5 / series-forward: "This is only the beginning." / "Bridal chose me."
